

2007

Kishwaukee United Way

For the third year, Kishwaukee United Way is gearing up for the 2007 Day of Caring to start momentum toward its annual campaign. Day of Caring is an opportunity for the community to work on various projects such as painting, mowing, building, cleaning, etc. for many of our United Way agencies and their clients.

Now it is time to invite you to put together a team of volunteers from your company or organization and join us again for the 2007 Day of Caring taking place on Thursday, September 13, 2007. The projects are expected to take from two to eight hours to complete. A rally and continental breakfast will start the day at 8:15 a.m. at American National Bank of DeKalb County, 1985 DeKalb Avenue in Sycamore. All volunteer team members will receive a t-shirt that recognizes our Agency Partners.

The 2007 Day of Caring Participation Form is included on page two of this letter. If you are interested in participating in our special day, complete it and send it to us by August 17, 2007, along with a list of your team members.

New to the 2007 Day of Caring is our Caring Collections Program. We are excited about this new initiative and a flyer outlining the program is attached for your consideration. If your company can't participate on September 13th, perhaps you would like to host a Caring Collection at your workplace.

If you have any questions, please contact Dawn Littlefield or Barb King at the Kishwaukee United Way office, me or one of the Kishwaukee United Way 'Day of Caring Committee' members. I hope we will be able to count on your participation this year. Thank you on behalf of the thirty-one United Way agencies who are serving DeKalb County.

Sincerely,

Lori Hampton
